Q: Creating a JSON response using factory_girl in Rails 3 In Rails 2 you could create a response using a method in your controller like this: render :json => {:data => @some_object.to_json} But what is the most elegant way of creating a JSON response with factory_girl in Rails 3? Should I have a class method in my factory which returns the object then create a JSON string with that? A: You can do something like this: Factory.define :foo do |f| f.property :bar, :bar_id, :bar_type f.to_json.should be_an_instance_of(Hash) end Henry J 2d92ce491b
